

TechHome Takeaway: Non-Buyer's Remorse

Non-Buyer's Remorse: There is a significant level of regret among new home buyers who did not purchase various home technologies.

For example, 32 percent of new home buyers who did not purchase an energy management system say they wish they had bought one.

Nearly one-quarter of home buyers who failed to purchase multi-room audio, home theater and lighting controls regret their decisions.

* Printed from CEPro magazine January 2007